Stock Prices Drift Slowly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted indecisively in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

There was little reaction to the Federal Reserve Board's announcement after the market's close Thursday that it had approved a cut in the discount rate of 5 per cent from 3 1/2 per cent to 3 per cent.

The effect of an earlier reduction by commercial banks in the prime lending rate to 6 1/2 per cent from 6 per cent had worn thin.

Wall Street analysts also said that profit taking was gnawing at the price rises of recent sessions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had slipped 0.75 to 837.08.

The Associated press 60-stock average at noon had risen 9 to 293.5 with industrials off 2, rails up 1.3, and utilities up .7.

Advances held only a slim edge over declines among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Burning Clothes Dryer Carried From Kitchen

The residence of Joe Callihan 214 Huston St., was saved from a serious fire 4:30 p.m. Thursday when Bill Richendall and Harry Ramsey carried a burning clothes dryer from the kitchen to the back yard.

The Circleville Fire Department was delayed briefly en route to the fire by a train blocking the street.

Richendall received burns to both of his hands. A short in the wiring was believed the cause of the fire. Because of the quick action of the two men, the loss was confined to the dryer, valued at $250.

The home was owned by Jim Ford.

Grand Jury To Hear 59 Cases

Grand jury testimony for the first session of 1971 listed a record number of 59 cases. Hearings will continue Saturday morning in the county court.

Twenty-five indictments sought are secret. The remainder involve 11 for non-support and other criminal charges from carrying a concealed weapon, grand larceny, rape, burglary, narcotic offenses to shooting with intent to kill.

Forty-two persons have been charged on the 59 various counts.

Soviets Supply Arms To Egypt

Russian Vessels Also Visit Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least six Soviet cargo ships have delivered jet fighters and other military hardware to Egypt and Syria within the last 10 days, Pentagon sources say.

The Russian vessels passed through the Dardanelles from the Black Sea, according to American experts, carrying about 20 crated aircraft, including MiG21's, SU7 and helicopters. Also spotted on deck were cases believed containing spare parts and other material.

The vessels, observed by U. S. reconnaissance planes unloaded cargo at Latakia, a port in northern Syria, and in Alexandria, a major Egyptian port.

One big Russian vessel, the Molodogvardsk, apparently tried to mask its true destination, sources said by notifying Turkish authorities the ship was bound for Algeria.

But it was observed later dropping anchor in Alexandria Dec. 31.

The United States keeps close check on Soviet arms shipments to Arab countries, particularly Egypt, because of Washington's pledge to maintain a military balance—particularly in air power—between Israel and its enemy neighbors.

At present, Syria and Egypt together are reporting to outnumber Israel in fighting aircraft by about 2 to 1. But the skill of Israeli pilots makes the actual air power gap much closer, in the view of U. S. military experts.

The same sources, meanwhile, discounted reports the Russians have provided Egypt new shipments of surface to surface bombardment missiles with ranges of up to nearly 100 miles.

Phosphate Ban Fought

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — An organization representing more than 90 per cent of the nation's soap and detergent makers has filed a suit here to try to prevent enforcement of an Akron ordinance requiring manufacturers to eliminate phosphates from their products.

The effective date of the ordinance is June 30, 1972.

The suit was filed Thursday in Summit County Common Pleas Court and seeks an injunction against the law passed by Akron City Council Dec. 8.

A spokesman for the Soap and Detergent Association (SDA) said the action was taken "reluctantly," but was necessary because the ordinance imposes an "impossible" deadline.

"Our industry is committed to the reduction and eventual elimination of phosphates," he said. "However, everyone should be aware of the fact that phosphates are absolutely safe for people."

None Injured When School Bus Struck On Route 23

Three accidents were reported Thursday in Pickaway County under investigation by the local Highway Patrol. Seven persons received injuries in two of the crashes but in the third, involving a Teays Valley School bus, none were hurt.

School bus driver Chester Fortner, 40, of Ashville, was headed north on Route 23 on the final section of his route shortly before 4 p.m. yesterday. He slowed and came to a stop just north of the junction of Route 762 to let off passengers when the bus was hit in the back by a car operated by 76-year-old Floyd D. Boels, Mansfield.

None of the four passengers still on the bus nor either driver was injured. Boels was cited for failing to keep assured clear distance ahead. His car was severely damaged on the right front and side. The school bus received minor damage on its left rear section.

Six were injured and an Ashville driver cited in a two car crash in South Bloomfield at North Street.

George E. Leatherwood, 44, was charged with failure to yield in the accident on Route 23 at 4:30 Thursday afternoon. He was turning left onto North Street from northbound lanes of 23 and pulled into the path of a car driven by a Coal Grove man. His auto was demolished and the other heavily damaged.

Leatherwood received a hand injury and bruises to his knee but did not receive treatment. Driver of the second car, James David Waller, 24, and his three daughters received numerous bruises and bumps. Waller's wife Janet suffered serious chin and cheek injuries when she struck the windshield by the force of the impact. The family were given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital.

See Boost In Postage This Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of mailing a letter probably will go up this spring as the debt-ridden U.S. Postal Service takes on the trappings of a private corporation.

The stamp for a first class letter is expected to increase from six cents to eight cents in April but Postmaster General Winton M. Blount says that may not be enough to match higher wage costs.

The stamp for a first class letter is expected to increase from six cents to eight cents in April but Postmaster General Winton M. Blount says that may not be enough to match higher wage costs.

The nine-member board of governors, to be sworn in individually the next few days under recess appointments by President Nixon, has yet to meet.

But the new law requires conversion of the postal service by Aug. 12 from an executive agency to a semiautonomous corporation-like business paying its own way. The deficit this fiscal year may reach $2.4 billion.

Collective bargaining between postal management and employees, authorized in the law, begins Jan. 20. Blount says the resulting contract may force up costs.

Postal officials estimate a 2 cent increase in first class postage would raise about $1.5 billion a year and, coupled with boosts in second and third class mailing, should enable the service to break even when Congress subsidizes public services such as free mailing of materials to the blind.

Boy Injured By Rocket

AARHUS, Denmark (AP) — Vagn Larsen, 17, was in a hospital in serious condition today after accidentally swallowing a midjet rocket that fired in his mouth, went down his gullet and exploded in his chest.

Doctors who undertook urgent surgery at the Aarhus Municipal Hospital said the boy's gullet was ripped open right behind the heart but they expressed belief he is out of immediate danger.

Friends said it all happened this way, during a delayed New Year's party:

Larsen put the rocket between his teeth and asked a friend to light the fuse with the burning end of a cigarette.

His intention was to remove the rocket—made of cardboard and about five inches long—and throw it into the air before it fired.

But the rocket stuck to his lips and the boy panicked, swallowing the rocket.

The friends said all present clearly heard the loud bang when a final charge, designed to release a train of multicolored fire, exploded in the boy's chest.

appeal. The Indian chief, like Daniel Boone and the Hatfields and McCoys who are subjects of other outdoor dramas presented in the United States, has wide appeal. He is known by those outside the Scioto Valley and had contact with many outstanding historical figures. He and his brother, "The Prophet," played a major part in historical events of their day.

Feasibility of the program has been assured, general boundaries set, land options are currently being discussed to locate at least 25 to 50 acres of land in a quiet hilly spot, architects contacted to study theatre design and several Ohio foundations contacted to seek available funds for the program.

Two noted playwrights and an author have been contacted to produce the historical play and a tentative timetable set for the manuscript to be completed sometime early next year.

Mundell himself is a professor at Ohio University. He has taken a year's leave from the school so he might be free to promote this project. Mundell tried for several years to interest the University in sponsoring the outdoor drama with no success and turned to establishment of a non-profit historical group instead.

All work completed so far has been financed by donations from individuals interested in the program.

Education

It may be interesting to know the educational requirements of your doctor of chiropractic.

Many states require two years pre-professional college training in an accredited state university or college, the regular professional four years of academic study, plus an internship. He must successfully complete a curriculum including anatomy, biochemistry, physiology, public health, pathology, diagnosis, pediatrics, psychiatry, x-ray, lab studies, etc., before receiving his doctors degree (D.C.). After this, the chiropractor must pass a state board of basic science examination as well as the chiropractic board examination to meet requirements for state licensure. Many states require the D.C. to attend an education seminar yearly for license renewal.

The profession is constantly doing research work in the field of x-ray interpretation, techniques of spinal manipulation and with various conditions associated with the spine and nervous system.

The chiropractic profession is also the largest and fastest growing drugless healing profession in the world and offers a challenging and rewarding career due to the increasing demand for the D.C.

Chiropractic Christian missionaries are being used by God to great advantage in various countries throughout the world.

There are more than 45 million Americans and over 600 insurance companies (auto, group, major medical, and individual policies) utilizing chiropractic health care. Each year millions more are taking their health problems to their chiropractors.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Adoption Situation Worries Her

DEAR ABBY: We have a darling one-year-old adopted baby. We have been advised by our case worker to apply for our second child as the waiting list for adopted babies is longer than it has ever been because of the new liberal abortion laws.

We don't want to add to the problems of those women who are carrying an unwanted child and maybe we're asking a lot to have them consider this, but if a woman is undecided as to which route to take, maybe knowing that there are a lot of married couples who would love to give an unborn child a home, would help in making her decision.

We love our little one and would certainly like to have another thru the only way open to us. Adoption. Thank God for it.

Copter Pilots
Given Break
On Discharges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say about one-fourth of the Army's helicopter pilots will be discharged April 1—before their Army terms are completed.

A spokesman said the move is part of an over-all manpower reduction designed to bring Army strength down from the Vietnam war peak of 1.5 million in 1968 to 1.2 million by June.

Pilots receiving early discharges will be warrant officers. About 6,000 of them have completed tours in Vietnam or Korea and do not plan to reenlist.

Spokesman said there is less need for U.S. pilots in Vietnam because the South Vietnamese are taking over conduct of the war.

Peace Talks
Still Stymied
Despite Hopes

PARIS (AP) — Representatives of Hanoi and Saigon at the Paris peace talks Thursday expressed hopes that the New Year will bring some progress in the deadlocked talks. But they followed up with repetitions of old charges against their opponents.

"We express the wish that the conference will record progress in the coming year," North Vietnam's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, told newsmen as he entered the first weekly meeting of 1971.

He added that recent promises by President Nixon and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird of gradual American disengagement from the war only showed that the United States is determined to pursue the war under cover of its Vietnamization policy.

Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, the chief Viet Cong delegate, said the Vietnamization policy proves that the United States has no real intention of withdrawing all its forces from South Vietnam.

Speaking first at the 98th weekly session of the talks, South Vietnam's Pham Dang Lam said the New Year "has generated unanimous hopes that the negotiations will get out of the impasse and that 1971 will see the start of a new phase leading to the end of hostilities and the restoration of peace. For us who are around this table, we cannot merely say that we share this hope, rather, it is our duty to make this hope become reality."

Lam blamed North Vietnam and the Viet Cong for the stalemate and said their final objective remains the conquest of South Vietnam "by force and subversion" and the extension of Hanoi's Communist regime to Cambodia and Laos.

The American representative, David K. E. Bruce, accused the Communist delegation of rejecting all American proposals out of hand while trying to impose unacceptable conditions "incompatible with any kind of real negotiations."

The Children's Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pickaway County Public Library has a section devoted to books for children. Volumes recently added to the Children's Library are reviewed here.

Children have always enjoyed bedtime stories. When they are little, the soothing voice of an adult lulls them to sleep. As they grow older, they often continue this custom, reading a chapter or two before turning off the light. Here are some tried and true titles which will last for several evenings, and be a joy to both reader and listener.

Beginning with "Curious George," "Madeline," and the Dr. Seuss books, every young child can be entertained. Next age group will enjoy the "Winnie-The Pooh" stories by A. A. Milne and "Johnny Crow's Garden" by Leslie Brooke and "Wind in the Willows" by Kenneth Grahame.

By the time they enter school, they are ready for the Carolyn Haywood books, "Betsy," "Betsy and Eddie" and others. For this age the Beverly Cleary books are popular: "Ramona the Pest," "Henry and Ribsy," and "Otis Spofford." Boys especially will like the Matt Christopher sports books and girls, "Mrs. Piggleswick" and "Miss Pickerel." Most of these will be read later by the children themselves, as they gain proficiency.

In the classroom, continued stories are always popular. Who does not remember "Heidi," "Rabbit Hill," "Ben and Me," and "The Voyages of Doctor Doolittle?"

Kipling's "Just So Stories" and E. B. White's "Charlotte's Web" remain among the most often charged books in the library.

Somewhat newer are the Roald Dahl books, "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" and "James and the Giant Peach," Butterworth's "Enormous Egg" is a delightful tale of a boy faced with the dilemma of raising a pet dinosaur in today's fast-paced world.

"Island of the Blue Dolphins" by Scott O'Ell and "Across Five Aprils" by Irene Hunt are exciting fare for older boys and girls. Lloyd Alexander's books, especially "The High King" really need an introduction by an adult. Once a young person is familiar with the author's style, he will read them on his own.

Suburban Integration Need
Emphasized By HUD Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Integrating the suburbs cries out of as much public understanding as the Vietnam war says Housing Secretary George Romney.

As a starter, he said at a news conference Wednesday, the phrase "forced integration" should be dropped because it is "unfortunate . . . and an oversimplification."

President Nixon has promoted the phrase, saying recently that forced integration of suburban housing was not in the national interest.

Romney admitted using the phrase himself on several occasions because of its appearance in press reports.

The right term "Prevention of discrimination," Romney said.

Further, he said, the integration dispute directs attention from the real problem which is providing adequate housing for all persons within a reasonable distance of their jobs.

Since urban land is almost used up, the secretary said, the bulk of government-subsidized housing will have to be built in outlying areas to meet the congressionally ordered production goal of 2.6 million units a year.

What precisely is the administration's policy on housing discrimination enforcement? It's still being worked out with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and President Nixon, Romney said.

But the onetime contender for the Republican presidential nomination implied he would be distressed if the final policy failed to condemn further discrimination.

Romney's compilation of his federal accomplishments omitted any increased housing opportunities for minority group members. It mentioned instead "educating Americans concerning their rights under the fair housing and equal opportunity provisions of the law."

The secretary contended most suburban communities are voluntarily accepting government-subsidized housing for low and moderate income families. Most of those eligible for such housing are white tradesmen and not black welfare recipients, he said.

The housing discrimination question is one of the most delicate facing the government, Romney said.

"Just how far can the government go in administering general (civil rights) laws without setting back housing opportunities for all—diminishing rather than increasing housing by clumsy, unsuccessful policies that build up resistance" he asked.

Relics Of History

It is difficult to assess, in the context of a time period now 30 years dead, the importance of the British cabinet records of 1940 which have been stripped of their secrecy after three decades.

What they purport to show is that high British officials, including Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, distrusted negotiations conducted by President Franklin D. Roosevelt through his Sec. of State, Sumner Welles, which might have led to peace agreements with Germany.

According to the records, Chamberlain told his cabinet on March 13, 1940, that he thought Roosevelt would "make some attempt to bring the war to an end even if that attempt should be embarrassing to us." The prime minister was referring to speculation that Welles was looking into the possibility of a peace overture to Germany which would have permitted Hitler to retain his power.

Some of the conversations included in the cabinet records are far stronger, including the observation by Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser to the Foreign Office, that "It is now pretty clear as the prime minister says in this minute that President Roosevelt is ready to play a dirty trick on the world and risk the ultimate destruction of the Western democracies in order to secure the re-election of a Democratic candidate in the United States."

Such documents provide interesting historical conjecture, but any value they may have had in influencing world affairs was lost when they were classified 30 years ago.

Worst News

Many persons will be in no mood to accept with complacency the news that a climatologist whose concern is with long-range weather trends, "feels it in his bones" that they're headed into a period that will be characterized by longer, colder winters. This should be classed with the worst news received this winter.

In July this news might have made the heat seem more bearable. But in the middle of what may be recorded as one of the coldest winters, it's insult piled upon injury. Well, there's always the solace of the seed catalogs, which are already arriving.

ROGER DANGERFIELD'S home grounds, to hear him tell about them, must be most unusual. For instance, crime is so rampant on the street where he lives that the cop on the corner has a sign reading, "Drive fast. The next life you save may be your own." Also, the world's tallest fortune teller lives right across the hall from him. She's so tall she reads palm trees.

Famed Columnist Heywood Broun was lovable, brilliant, and incisive, but he was also about the sloppiest character ever permitted to enter the sacred portals of the "21" Restaurant. One admirer dubbed him "Six Characters in Search of a Laundry." Broun himself confessed that one sunny afternoon when he was idling in Central Park, a smart squirrel spotted him as a type who might have a couple of spare peanuts in his pocket. "I couldn't oblige," concluded Broun, "but I did give him a nickel to buy his own peanuts."

OVERHEARD: Youngster reporting to his mother: "Hey, mom! Daddy took me to the zoo again this afternoon and one of the animals came in and paid him $22.80."

Retiring film magnate: "When I first broke into pictures, the actors thought they were daring fellows when they left off their pajama tops. Next thing you know, they were wearing the tops and no bottoms. And now, bless me, they're just wearing the strings of the pajamas!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can I tell if I have an attack of allergy or a severe cold? I seem to get the same symptoms every few weeks.

Mr. E.G., N.Y. Dear Mr. G.: Your question is a frequent one. Although, in many instances, the two can be differentiated, it is sometimes confusing because colds, sinus infections and allergic reaction are present at the same time.

It is well known that anyone who has a nasal allergy is more susceptible to sinus infections. The germs that cause sinusitis seem to grow profusely in the warm moist areas of the nose of people having an allergy attack.

In general, colds and infections are associated with fever, achiness and general discomfort. They rarely occur with the regularity you describe.

On the other hand, allergy attacks, with running of the nose, sneezing and itching of the eyes, tend to occur more frequently because of the possibility of repeated exposure to offending substances. Your doctor can make the distinction.

There is a tendency for many people to overmedicate themselves with over the counter drugs that are "quick shots" filled with decongestants, antihistamines and antibiotics. These should not be taken without the specific instructions of your doctor.

I am frightened and unhappy about a problem that has been bothering me for sometime.

I have several moles on my face. Please don't tell me to see a doctor. I just can't push myself to go because I am afraid.

I read your columns every day and I know you're going to scold me, but please help me.

Mrs. T.H., Calif. Dear Mrs. H.: I am disappointed that you are missing some of the basic messages that I try to convey to my readers. First and foremost, I want to alleviate their anxiety by urging them to bring their problems early and directly to their own doctors.

Only in this way can they gain the assurance that they need, especially when they are as frightened as you are.

No, I won't scold you, because I know how terrifying fear can be and how fear can mount as time goes on.

Rather will I urge you to ask your doctor about the moles, which, in all probability, are uncomplicated and non-cancerous.

In most instances, they can be removed and their unsightly appearance will no longer be a problem.

After you see your doctor, write me again so that I can share with other readers your relief from anxiety.

Too often the relationship with a doctor is spoiled because fees have not been discussed in advance.

The U. S. Coast Guard, under fire because three of its officers combined to let the Soviets grab a Lithuanian refugee sailor off an American ship, insists on passing the blame to an unidentified "desk officer" in the State Department who allegedly cautioned Rear Admiral William Ellis in Boston "not to provoke an incident" that might interfere with delicate fishing rights negotiations.

"Delicate relations" — how many times in the history of the Cold War has the State Department fallen back on this gimmick to take the starch out of any manly and vigorous American objection to letting the Soviets roll over us? As my friend Karl Baarslag, one of our diminishing tribe of truly knowledgeable Russia-watchers, points out, the State Department invoked "delicate relations" way back in 1939 to let a convicted spy leave our shores while his American dupe went to prison. There is always a "critical state of relations" with the Soviets. When the FBI moved to pick up dangerous atomic spies in the post-war period, the State Department usually said "No." The "delicate relations" bit has always been a fraud: our respect for Soviet sensibilities has never once paid off in negotiations.

So what is happening now on this matter of the Soviet submarine base at Cienfuegos on the south coast of Cuba? Before the autumn elections the Nixon Administration bravely warned the Communists that it would view the establishment of a Soviet sea base in the Caribbean with "the utmost seriousness." The Soviets evidently regarded the warning as part of the usual U.S. pre-election charade. So they took a tug and a submarine tender out of Cienfuegos, meanwhile denying they had any intention of constructing a base. Two Soviet naval barges, however, remain at Cienfuegos, while a huge crane and bulldozers continue to work at the port, and the tug and the submarine tender returned to their original south coast berths. U-2 flights have confirmed the refugee reports that the Russian activity at Cienfuegos is unabated.

The Nixon Administration is not fooled; it knows very well what is going on. But there are those "delicate relations" to be considered. The hope is to bring the Soviets to an accord in the Middle East which will protect the Israelis without unduly offending the Arabs. "We" — meaning Washington — hope to see West Germany's Willy Brandt get some real mitigating concessions on West Berlin in exchange for what he has already given away to the Communists in his Ostpolitik dickers. "We" want those SALT limitations on atomic armaments. And "we" still hope to see Soviet pressure on the heirs of Ho Chi Minh to release the U. S. prisoners of war and to bring the Vietnam conflict to a negotiated settlement.

With our official hopes centered on the "big picture," our Caribbean and Latin American worries are swept under the rug. But if the State Department can never seem to realize that such tactics won't get us anywhere, White House advisor Henry Kissinger should know better. The Soviets are quite capable of dangling East European baits before Willy Brandt. Time Magazine's incredible Man of the Year, for the duration of his whole term of office. They have already established their prescriptive right to keep those hastily installed SAM anti-air defenses on the west bank of the Suez Canal despite their promises that they wouldn't use a cease-fire to better their position. And in the matter of atomic armament they will hardly yield anything that gives them an advantage.

While the stalling game goes on in Europe and the Middle East, the base at Cienfuegos will be a-building. And, in Chile, the Allende Socialist-Communist coalition will be getting a firmer grip on the country. The sensitive departments of Finance, Public Works and Labor in Chile are already under Communist control. With Cienfuegos and with Chilean port rights, the Soviets will menace the Panama Canal from both the Atlantic and the Pacific. Our concern for "delicate relations" will have done us in again.

End Of A Dynasty

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The departure of Richard Zanuck as president of 20th Century-Fox marked the apparent end of the most notable dynasty in the film industry today.

It also brought further erosion of family control of the movie business, which once was the most important factor in the film hierarchy.

"There's nothing wrong with nepotism—as long as you keep it in the family," Samuel Goldwyn was alleged to have once said.

Goldwyn knew. He came into the film business because his first wife was the sister of Jesse Lasky, a vaudeville star who started making flickers.

Many another pioneer entered filmmaking because of relatives. Harry Cohn was brought into Universal because his brother Jack worked there. Later the brothers formed Columbia, which Robert Benchley termed "the pine tree studio" "because it has so many Cohns."

The Warner Brothers offered a formidable family for control of their company, yet no Warner remains in control today. Jack L. Warner, the surviving brother, became estranged from his own son. For a time Warner established his son-in-law, William Orr, as production head. But that didn't work, and Warner later sold his interest in the company.

With the deaths of the founding fathers and economic shake-up of the industry, relatives have been disappearing from studio payrolls.

The split of Richard and Darryl Zanuck came as a surprise. Young Richard had been well thought of by the film crowd. But Fox had made some costly errors and someone had to take the rap. Not father Darryl, who remained chairman of the board.

Two major companies continue to follow the familial pattern.

After the deaths of the Cohn brothers, Abe Schneider took over control of Columbia. He is now chairman of the board, and Leo Jaffe, who had been related by marriage, is president of the parent firm, Columbia Industries. Son Stanley Schneider is president of Columbia Pictures, and son Howard Jaffe is a producer.

Oddly, another Jaffe son, Stanley, is president of Paramount Pictures.

The Disney studio, founded by brothers Walt and Roy, still retains the family touch. Walt's son-in-law, Ron Miller, is production head, and Roy Jr. is a producer at the studio.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a strange sieve.

It nets and keeps the glory of past days; it tends to mute or diminish the hurts and terrors of yesterday. That is why people with good memories are usually optimists. The more memories they have, the more they appreciate the varied wonders of life.

Your own life is undoubtedly more interesting if you can look back and remember when—

People said of a stale joke, "That had whiskers on it when Hector was a pup."

An Irishman, an Italian and a Scotsman—John McCormack, Enrico Caruso and Sir Harry Lauder—were the most popular visiting foreign singers since showman P. T. Barnum brought Jemmy Lind from Sweden in the 19th century.

Most American homes had a well and a pump in the backyard.

The insurance agent called once a week on large families, and mother doled him out a dime apiece for burial insurance for the kids.

Fat was a symbol of victory. It showed that a man earned enough money to eat himself out of shape.

When a fellow was particularly pleased with something he had done, he showed his pride by flexing his knees and snapping his red suspenders with his thumbs.

When the minister was to make an afternoon call, the first thing a wife did when she woke up that morning was to dust the family Bible to let him know he was coming to a deeply religious household.

The spread of radio in the 1920's was denounced by some moralists on the grounds that it would corrupt the laboring classes by keeping them up so late they wouldn't be able to put in the usual 10 hours of work the next day.

A young fellow who hung around soda fountains was known as a "drugstore cowboy." If he haunted pool halls, he was regarded as "penitentiary bait."

The most popular musical instrument in the land was a pocket comb covered with a piece of cigarette paper. Any kid could hum a soulful tune on it.

It wasn't thought necessary to get a college education to succeed, particularly in business. Most families were proud if they managed to send their children through high school.

You really got what you paid for—and you paid for it in cash. Those were the days—remember?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Since there have been so many problems of late on Wall Street, little public notice has been given to the steady decline of a century-old symbol and little concern for the threatened end to an old tradition.

The ticker tape printer, to be specific, could very well be approaching its last tick, like so many other things on the Street.

In 1964, there were 4,000 of them; in 1971 there are 670. If the trend continues there won't be enough tape to festoon an old fashioned parade or hero's welcome.

Street cleaners report reliably, in fact, that after recent parades they've noted a marked increase in the number of electronic computer cards and common trash, a game attempt by the community to maintain its reputation.

But the computer card is not the real culprit; electronics is. Brokers and others are inclined today to obtain stock prices from desk top devices and electronic display boards rather than from the old ticker print-out.

The information is the same; only the means of obtaining and displaying it is different.

The ticker prints stock prices on a paper tape that is belched forth at a maximum rate of 900 characters a minute into clubs and brokers' offices across the country.

Sometimes the tape is projected onto a screen.

It still is projected high on the walls of the New York Stock Exchange, running from right to left but because the display boards can show only 80 of the speeding characters at a time, it takes good eyes to read anything.

To counter the problems and prepare for the future, the exchange has now installed devices that are said to be capable of showing 3,600 characters a minute on 6-foot by 6-foot display boards.

Characters are printed in 6-foot-wide lines that come in bursts rather than one character at a time as on the ticker tape. Each full line of data rises to the top of the board, allowing viewers to read left to right as they would on a printed page.

Conceivably, such boards could become commonplace in brokerage houses throughout the country. Many houses already have adopted tapeless devices to receive data from the exchange floor; while the number of tickers has dropped to a fraction of what it was, more than 3,000 more modern units have been installed.

Auto Dealer Wins Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday a used car dealer is not responsible for unknown defects in a vehicle he sells.

The high court upheld two lower court opinions favoring Parr-Ruckman Home Town Motor Sales, Inc., of Mansfield in a damage suit filed by Virgil and Sarah Stamper of Mansfield.

Mrs. Stamper was injured Sept. 16, 1966, when caught between the bumpers of two cars. The plaintiffs said one of the autos, acquired from the firm by Stammers' brother, had faulty neutral switch wiring in the transmission that permitted the car to be started in gear.

They said the car jumped into gear while being started, crushing Mrs. Stamper against another car.

The Supreme Court said a used car dealer acquires his autos "as is," generally sells them that way and is not responsible for a later defect that is not easily discoverable.

Control Board OKs Reservoir Fund Releases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The new Ohio Controlling Board approved two previously deferred reservoir projects Thursday at a secret gathering Chairman Otis Stock declined to label a meeting.

"It was just a round robin to get the necessary signatures," said Stock, assistant finance director in the outgoing Republican administration.

The board released $4 million to fund a reservoir project in Fulton County and $1.8 million for another near New London in Huron County.

In addition, it released $3.7 million in funds for construction of a new classroom building for the Penta County Technical Institute near Napoleon.

The old controlling board died at the end of the year.

The new board, named by party leaders in both houses of the legislature, is comprised of four Republicans and a Democrat—House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, Reps. Michael DeBane, D - 99 Hubbard, and Frederick Young, R - 84 Dayton, and Stock.

The old board deferred action on the reservoir requests after one member, Sen. Ralph Regula, R-29 Navarre, objected to spending taxpayers' money on projects he said would benefit only certain areas of the state.

Stock said the Penta County building was added to the agenda to enable the Ohio Board of Regents to accept bids.

Money for all the projects had been approved by the last session of the legislature. The controlling board watches over state finances, releasing money as it is needed.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Our Rose Bowlers have safely returned and those of us who remained behind are enjoying hearing first hand accounts of the colorful, excitement filled days. Russell (Cotton) and Helen Timmons took in all the sights and were guests at a Lawrence Welk show. Also going from here were Jack and Ellen Dunlap and granddaughter, Miss Ann Bowser; Johnny and Doris Reynolds and Jo Anne and Mrs. Gertrude Schleich (Doris' mother); Donna Garrison (an OSU frosh); Mr. Edwin Frazier (who also hoped to visit with an aunt).

Going to sunny climes but taking the Florida route were John and Minnie Steinhauer and daughter Jonda who jetted down to Winter Haven for a visit with brother Marion and wife Gretchen Steinhauer and a bit further down the pike to Haines City and a few days with Harry Puffinbarger. Additional holiday visitors of the Puffinbargers were grandson Bob and Linda Diltz and their Julie who took the camper way of traveling from their home out Route 22. The John Steinhauers also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Power of Melbourne, Fla. One of the outstanding highlights of the many tours they took was the one to Cape Kennedy, the entire NASA bit, and especially seeing Apollo XIV on its pad ready for the next launch. They had a pleasant experience at Cypress Gardens. While strolling thru marveling at all the sights they heard their names mentioned and glanced up to see none other than local residents, Tom and Mable Duvall, little Charlie and Donnarae Bryant who were also doing the Florida bag for the holidays. Donnarae is doing very nicely, how, after suffering severe injuries in an auto accident earlier this fall.

Two of my very favorite people ever, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hulse, their daughter Mrs. Virginia Russell and her two images, Julia and Paul, took time off from a busy schedule and drove down to Middletown for an overnight visit and were dinner guests of Mrs. Hulse's niece, Miss Betty

Plan Fish Kill Remedy

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — In about 60 days, the U. S. Plywood-Champion Papers Co. hopes to begin operating a system to help prevent chemical spills into the Great Miami River.

Company officials disclosed Wednesday that engineering plans for the system have been completed.

The announcement came only hours after the Ohio Department of Natural Resources said it had received $90,361.13 from Champion for a fish kill in the river. A claim was filed against the company Dec. 10 by the division of wildlife which said that 1,849,444 fish were killed after a chemical entered the water.

A Champion official said that in making the payment, the company was not admitting sole liability for the kill of the fish, mostly minnows, catfish, bass and carp.

Possible action by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency is still pending against Champion. The agency has asked the Justice Department for approval to sue the company under the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899.

Wilson, a teacher in the local school there.

Mr. Arthur Frazier enjoyed having members of his family visit during the Christmas season. His daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker and his son Mr. Ray Frazier of Angola, Indiana spent a few days with their dad.

Mrs. Nanvie Wright drove to Gallatin, Tennessee and spent holiday time with relatives in the area.

John and Edna West journeyed to Florence, S. Carolina to be with daughter Jeanette and her husband Jack and kids, Lisa, Craig, and Brian. They had a marvelous time and left to return home on New Year's eve but mother nature had ideas and they got stranded on the West Virginia turnpike and for two and a half days they headquartered at a Princeton motel to wait out the snowstorm.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long and son Charles who was home from his senior studies at Kent State University, spent Christmas Day afternoon with another son, Bill and his Vallie and their Becky, Jackie, Jeff and Brett at their home in Darrown.

Teresa Graffis was the house guest last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Dick and Bonnie Hoskins and son Jimmy of Lancaster.

J. R. Hamman celebrated his birthday with a party but I have a bad habit of doing this column in the late hours, so will obtain the guest list for next week. I should make a resolution to be more organized and not so discombobulated all the time.

Bits of revelry around town gave evidence that our residents were doing their thing in helping to ring out the old and ring in the New Year. Jack and Pat Clark had a houseful and across the street, John and Sue Graffis entertained the Easterdays and the Frank Hensons. Miss Bunny Stevens, daughter of H. H. and Mary Lee was hostess to a group of her junior high peers.

Local grocer, Gene Stonerock and his mate Vivian and their children were also among those who made the Florida scene during the holiday vacation.

And now we come to the Ernie and Ruth Minor household which can't help but be the busiest in Pickaway County. On Dec. 21, M-Sgt. and Mrs. William Irwin (Judy Minor) and Amy and Emily arrived from Blytheville, Arkansas to be reunited with sister Susan Warner and her Ragene who had come in earlier from Japan and whose husband, Sgt. Clifton joined his family here. Soon as school was dismissed for the holidays, grandson Scotty Picklesimer of Columbus was on his way to the grandparents. Christmas Day, son Dale, his wife and children came down from Massillon and spent the night. Saturday was the really big family day celebration with sister Barbara Ward, and Mr. Leonard Osborn of Columbus; sister Thelma and husband Lowell Williams with daughters Kim and Terri from Circleville, sister Beverly and her Bob Brown from Chillicothe; Mrs. Sandy Caldwell and son Loren of Roundtown and Randy Minor. Bill Irwin returned to base, leaving here Dec. 27 but Judy and the girls will be here until this week-end and they, too, will return home. The Warners are the house guests of Cliff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Warner of Route 3. On New Year's eve the Minors hosted a get together with friends of many years standing, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Congrove of Chillicothe. These two couples have spent New Year's eve together for the past thirty-four years without fail. That's what you call a tradition, for sure.

On New Year's Day, Thelma Williams and her gals from Circleville, visited. This past Sunday afternoon, Judy Irwin and her girls, along with Ruth (the mama and grandmama) spent a most pleasant time with Mrs. Denver Greenlee at her Circleville home. Judy will be leaving soon (and her family) to take up residency in Tehran, Iran and since Mrs. Greenlee has a sister who spent five years in that country and city she was able to impart valuable information and many helpful hints to Judy. To the Irwins we wish godspeed and may the wind be always at their backs.

Rick Brayshaw, son of Jack and Pat, left Sunday for Fort Jackson, South Carolina to begin his service training. May this new adventure prove to be one of pleasing experiences for this fine young gentleman. Soon as he is settled and has a mailing address we will print it for his many friends to keep in touch.

Panel Blames Hotel Blaze On Arsonist

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A blaze which claimed 28 lives at a fashionable downtown hotel Dec. 20 was the work of one or more arsonists, a special board of inquiry has decided.

The board, in a report released Thursday night, said the blaze began on the fourth floor of the 12-story Pioneer International Hotel and two separate fires were touched off.

"The thing that indicates arson," Fire Chief L. F. Peterson said following the report's release, "is the fact two fires started in the fourth floor hallway about 60 feet apart."

The board said its conclusion was based on a preliminary report by Cyril W. Holmes, a California forestry arson investigator.

The City Council selected three of its members to compose the board. The report followed more than two weeks of secret hearings.

Firemen said shortly after the blaze many of the hotel's 112 occupants awakened in the upper portion of the building to find the hallways aflame and no means of escape except through windows.

The report made no attempt to identify arson suspects.

Mayor James Corbett Jr. said a police investigation was continuing, but added: "I do not think it is proper at this time to refer to any potential suspect by name."

Of the hotel victims 18 were residents of nearby Mexico, most of them members of wealthy families staying at the hotel for the Christmas holidays.

The first systematic weather reports in the United States are attributed to the Reverend John Campanius Holm, chaplain of a settlement near present-day Wilmington, Delaware, who began making regular observations only 24 years after the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It takes more woman to fill a size 36 D bra than it did 30 years ago, and that's official.

The National Bureau of Standards reports that women's body measurements have grown since it published a standard 12 years ago based on a 1939 survey by the Department of Agriculture.

The purpose of the new NBS standard is to update the sizing of women's apparel.

Based on data collected from the Departments of Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare, the U.S. Air Force and mail order houses, the comparative study of women's body measurements shows the size 12 of yesterday, 34-25-36, is today's 35-26-37.

"There's a general increase in bust, hips and waist," said a quality control manager of a large mail order house. "We find women are getting heavier. Some say it's because they're more sedentary. They sit more and their hips spread."

This gentleman requested that his name not be used.

In four classifications of women's sizes—Misses', Women's, Half-sizes—for shorter women—and Juniors—some measurements have increased one to two inches in what the NBS survey calls "body landmarks."

For example, the 1939 data shows a Misses size 10, whose upper arm measured 9 1/2 inches around and whose thigh measured 19 1/2 inches "at maximum girth" today would swing a 10 and 1/2 inch upper arm and thrust a 20 1/2 inch thigh.

A 1939 Junior size 9 who measured 32-23 1/2-33 1/2 would round out today at 33-23 1/2-35.

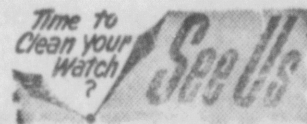

Some industry designers claim the proportional changes reflect the dictates of fashion.

"The change in women's bodies is essentially due to what fashion says they should look like," said Barbara Hulse, director of the Design department at Simplicity Patterns.

"Now women have gone back to the natural look," she said. "Bras used to be pointed. Now they're rounded and soft. It's a reshaping."

Oddly enough, the re-shaping doesn't apply to men's patterns and apparel. When an NBS coordinator was asked about a new standard for men, he replied:

"They don't have a new standard for men. They don't ever have an old one."

Arsenic Residue In Poultry Reported In Steady Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials report a steady decline in the rate illegal residues of organic arsenic are found in poultry samples, but the number of violations remains higher than for any other farm feed additive.

Officials stressed that residues of organic arsenic present no apparent human health hazard since the substance is far less toxic than inorganic arsenic — the poison made famous in fiction and history.

Agriculture Department figures provided in response to an Associated Press query showed 27.5 per cent of the poultry samples taken in 1968 contained excess amounts of organic arsenic. The figure dropped to 17 per cent of the 399 samples taken in 1969.

The Agriculture Department did not have complete figures for 1970, but officials of the Food and Drug Administration said monthly reports indicate illegal residues were found in from 5 and 8 per cent of the poultry sampled last year.

Organic arsenic-like hormones, antibiotics and other additives — is put in animal feed to make the beasts grow faster. The government limits residues of the additives in the human food supply by specifying that the drugs be withdrawn from the feed for a certain number of days before slaughter. The five-day withdrawal period for organic arsenic is the longest required.

But compliance with the withdrawal period depends largely on individual farmers and some specialists have argued that adherence is spot'y.

Agriculture Department inspectors found illegal residues of antibiotics in a slightly over 1 per cent of the meat animals sampled in 1968 and 1969. Hormone residues were detected in less than 1 per cent of the beef cattle tested.

The FDA seizes, where possible, the meat of animals found with excessive residues. Often, however, the tests are completed only after the meat has already gone to market, officials said.

To cut down on air pollution five downtown areas in Tokyo have been converted into holiday malls on Sundays.

Soul-Searching

Someone has said the eyes are the windows of the soul.

And when it's our own child—how easy to believe that in those sparkling eyes we have seen and understood an infant soul.

Well, we have seen a mind eager to grow . . . character ready to be molded.

If in our child's eyes we would see his soul, then one thought should possess us: This is a soul known to God but not yet knowing God.

Soul-searching is always the threshold to spiritual growth. The need we recognize in a baby's eager eyes is a need adult souls never outgrow.

Remember as you plan your family's religious future: God knows each and every human soul. The life He has given us is our opportunity to know Him.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

With a tragic hunting accident the first day of the New Year when a 17-year-old boy was accidentally killed by a 14-year-old companion, we feel the responsibility of having a gun must be impressed on the boy and his parents.

We found an article, distributed by the Department of Wildlife, which we would like to print at this time:

Many young hunters will be anticipating receiving their first gun on or about December 25th. The happiness and joy of owning his first gun will largely depend on the proper instruction and training he is given in the safe ways of handling a firearm.

Boys and guns go together as naturally as boys and dogs. But when a boy becomes a shooter he must put childish horseplay behind him. When the young shooter is entrusted with a gun, it means that someone believes he is old enough to use it safely. His gun is a man-sized responsibility. He should use it as often as possible, for shooting skill is honed with practice — but always remembering that a gun is a man's tool and not a boy's toy.

A good gun, used with proper ammunition, is no more dangerous than an axe or saw. It is the person handling the gun who makes it dangerous or safe.

Ohio law specifies that hunters under 16 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

One of the first "musts" for the new gun owner is to enroll in a Hunter Safety Course of instruction. Ohio has over 800 qualified gun instructors who have trained over 24,000 students during 1970. Hunter Safety Courses are available in all counties of Ohio; contact the game protector in your area, Tom Weldon, Route 3, Circleville, 474-2588, for information on future classes.

A safe hunter gives much to those who hunt with him, to others who are influenced by him, and to the sport of hunting itself.

Ownership of a firearm is an American heritage which must be protected by all gun owners. It is up to you as a hunter to respect the ethics of hunting, respect for your companions, respect for the land and the wildlife you hunt.

Our little gem of information — Rocky Marciano totaled $4,138,294 for 49 fights from 1947 to 1955. He won them all, 43 by Kays. Clay and Frazier will gross 2.5 million apiece for one night's work when they meet in Madison Square Garden.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville to stop Wilmington and Franklin Heights . . . Teays Valley will get its second and third wins against Dublin and Olen-tangy . . . Westfall will gain its revenge when they meet Logan Elm . . . Bill Casper will have them all singing at the Glen Campbell Open.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Pepper Rogers Given Top Job With UCLA Bruins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Recipe for success in college football: add a dash of Pepper. That's just what the UCLA Bruins did Thursday, dipping into the Midwest farm belt to sign Franklin "Pepper" Rogers of Kansas.

Rogers predicted instant greatness for the Bruins, expected to be one of the most powerful teams in the school's history. The new coach said he'd be disappointed "if we don't have a good football team and be in competition for the Rose Bowl."

While Rogers went west in search of his rose-colored dream longtime assistant Don Fambrough stepped into the Kansas spotlight and fulfilled a wish of his own.

"This is a job I've dreamed of getting . . . it's the thrill of my life," he said after being named to succeed Rogers. "I've never wanted to coach at any other school."

The University of Tampa, meanwhile, signed Bill Fulcher, a 36-year-old offensive line coach at Florida, as Thursday's activities continued a rash of coaching changes in the college ranks.

Among the more recent shifts were: Dartmouth's Bob Blackman to Illinois; with assistant Jake Crouthamel taking over the Indians' top spot; Florida State's Bill Peterson to Rice; Tulane's Jim Pittman to Texas Christian; Arkansas State's Bennie Ellender to Tulane; Tampa's Fran Curci to Miami, Fla.; Toledo's Frank Lautner to Iowa and East Carolina's Mike McGhee to Duke.

Charlie Coffey, an assistant at Arkansas, hooked up with Virginia Tech and Joe Restie, a coach of the Canadian Football League Hamilton Tiger Cats, signed with Harvard, and Bill Jones, a Tennessee assistant, went to FSU.

Marshall University, which lost Coach Rick Tolley in a plane crash, was still looking for a replacement. Former pro football star Sam Huff had his name linked with the Marshall job, but denies reports he's joined.

Claim Duane Thomas Better Than Shaw

DALLAS (AP) — Gil Brandt, player personnel director of the Dallas Cowboys, said today "It's unbelievable" that running back Duane Thomas wasn't selected National Football League offensive rookie of the year.

Dennis Shaw, Buffalo quarterback, got the honor and Brandt said "Buffalo went 14 quarters at one stretch with Shaw at quarterback and didn't score a touchdown."

Thomas, who was second in the balloting, didn't play except on the specialty teams until regular Calvin Hill was injured against Minnesota.

Hoskins Paces Jr. High Win Over Ewing

Perry Hoskins meshed the nets for 31 points to lead the Circleville Junior High squad to a 53-39 win over Lancaster Ewing Thursday on the Mill St. floor.

With Hoskins hitting the hoop from all angles, the little Tigers led from the opening whistle and were never in danger in the contest.

They led 17-9 at the end of the first quarter, 29-18 at the half, held a 38-28 margin at the end of the third stanza and finished with a 53-39 win over the lads from Ewing.

In addition to Hoskins' spurge, Phil Roll added 11, Bruce Brudzinski had four, Harold Reed three and Doug Palm and Mark McFadden tallied two points apiece to account for the Circleville scoring.

***
BILL Massie and Rod Wolfe were defensive standouts for Circleville as they continually harassed the Ewing offense.

Weber led the junior high cagers from Lancaster.

Circleville is now 3-2 for the season and will be at home Tuesday with Lancaster Stanbery.

CHS Grapplers Finish Third In Ready Meet

Circleville's wrestling team finished third in a triangular meet with Bishop Ready and Grove City Thursday on the Bishop Ready mats.

Grove City garnered 66 points to take honors in the meet, Ready was second with 46 and Circleville was third with 39 points.

Bill Fowler captured the 175-pound division, Doyle Kiser was top man in the 145-pound class and Dave Webb took the top spot in the 132-pound division to pace the Tigers.

Circleville will return to action on Jan. 16 when they take part in the Groveport Invitational tournament.

SPORTS Highlights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Foul trouble isn't such a burden when the Big O is around to lighten the load.

With Lew Alcindor on the bench for much of the game because of foul trouble, Oscar Robertson, the Big O of the National Basketball Association, scored 35 points to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to a 116-106 victory over the New York Knicks.

Alcindor also found time to score 24 points and the Bucks beat the Knicks for the first time in three meetings this season. Dave Debussche topped the Knicks with 22 points.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Versatile Pete Rose looks as the replacement for Cincinnati Reds centerfielder Bobby Tolan who will be sidelined until at least June 1.

Tolan, who led the National League last year in stolen bases, underwent surgery at Christ Hospital here Thursday for a ruptured Achilles tendon, the same injury which plagued former Reds pitchers Jim Maloney in 1970.

In seven years with the Reds, Rose has played four different positions and apparently will switch from rightfield to center until Tolan returns. But Manager Sparky Anderson said that he has not made any decisions yet and General Manager Bob Howsam told him to take his time.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Buffalo's National Hockey League game with Detroit wasn't a sure thing before it started but the Sabres' victory turned out to be a set up for Phil Goyette.

Goyette scored one goal but more importantly set up four more as the Sabres beat Detroit 7-4. Three of Goyette's assists came in the first period as the Sabres built a 3-0 lead. Paul Andrea scored two goals for the Sabres while Gary Unger hit a pair for the Red Wings.

22nd Annual Senior Bowl Set Saturday

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer
MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Lynn Dickey and Dan Pastorini, a pair of outstanding passers for the North, will face a crack Southern defensive unit that includes seven members of the Associated Press All-American football teams Saturday in the 22nd annual Senior Bowl game.

Dickey, the Kansas State star who passed for 2,163 yards this year and 6,208 in his career, and Santa Clara's Pastorini, who accounted for about 4,000 aerial yards this season, each are considered prime professional prospects and should go high in the National Football League draft later this month.

However, the explosive Yankee attack could find it difficult to move against the South defense led by All-American end Bill Atessis, a 257-pounder from Texas, and second unit All-American tackle John Sage, who was brilliant in Louisiana State's Orange Bowl loss to national champion Nebraska.

Other All-Americans on the South defense are second teamer Jack Youngblood, an end from Florida, and linebacker Rick Kingree of Tulane and third teamer Larry Williamson,

Penn Quakers Rout Harvard For 10th Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Harvard got a kick out of the Pennsylvania Polka Thursday night.

One, two, three—boom! Fifth-ranked Penn turned a cool first half into a two-fisted second act for an 81-62 college basketball rout over Harvard.

It was the 10th straight victory for the Quakers, one of the few remaining Top Ten teams with an unblemished record. Top-ranked UCLA, No. 3 Marquette and No. 4 Southern California, neither of whom played Thursday night, are the others.

Louisville, the nation's 13th-ranked club, dumped North Texas State 90-72 and 16th-rated Drake stopped Wichita 78-74 in games involving the top twenty.

Harvard took advantage of Penn's bad shooting in the first half to grab a 35-29 lead. Then Phil Hankinson, who scored 18 points, and Steve Bilsky, 14, helped Penn cut out a big margin at the start of the second half.

Corky Calhoun added 13 for the Quakers, now 2-0 in Ivy League competition. Sophomore flash James Brown connected for 24 points to lead Harvard, 1-1 in the Ivy and 5-8 overall.

Jim Price scored 23 points, Al Billebeck got 21 and Ron Thomas, 20, helping Louisville sprint to a 14-point lead at the start and coast over North Texas State in their Missouri Valley Conference battle.

Helping out matters for the winners were 23 personal fouls called against North Texas. The winners converted 28 of 36 shots from the foul line. Al Shumate of North Texas led all scorers with 29 points.

Drake shut off a second-half rally by Wichita to take its first Missouri Valley game. Key baskets by Tom Bush, Jeff Halliburton and Bobby Jones in the final minutes helped kill the Shocker comeback.

William Chapmon scored 23 of his 27 points in the first half as Baylor spoiled Louisiana State's homecoming with a 90-83 decision. Nelson Isley led the losers with 29.

Princeton shot 51 per cent from the floor in the first half and used a 26-point performance by Brian Taylor to trip Dartmouth 78-58; Holy Cross ran off 13 straight points at the start and coasted over Colgate 87-64; Larry Finch and Don Holcomb teamed for 65 points to point Memphis State over Bradley 102-87 and Hawaii pounded Rhode Island 92-82 behind Dwight Holiday's 24 points.

Top Horses Entered In Malibu Stakes

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
They went through tests as 3-year-olds, several of which they passed, and now a year older they're doing it again—Loud, George Lewis and Protanto.

These three stakes winners all, are among a probable field of 12 4-year-olds expected for the $40,000-added Malibu Stakes at Santa Anita, a test for the $100,000 Charles H. Strub Stakes at the same track Feb. 3.

a back from Auburn whose punt return provided the winning margin in last week's Gator Bowl game.

Linebacker Ronnie Hornsby, a 232-pounder from Southeastern Louisiana College, and Richard Harris, a 265-pound tackle from Grambling were first teamers on The AP Little All-American squad.

Kickoff for the Senior Bowl is set for 2 p.m. EST. The game will be televised nationally (NBC). A capacity crowd 40,000 is expected.

The South attack will be triggered by quarterbacks Leo Hart of Duke and Scott Hunter of Alabama, who combined for about 1,000 career yards in the air.

But most of the real damage could come from a trio of running backs—All-American Don McCauley of North Carolina, Dave Abercrombie of Tulane and Mickey Zofko of Auburn.

McCauley gained 1,720 yards in 1970, cracking O.J. Simpson's single season NCAA rushing record.

Hart and Hunter will be passing to a trio of speedy wide receivers—Wes Chesson of Duke, Frank Lewis of Grambling and David Smith of Mississippi State.

The North receivers have unmatched speed in Arizona State's J.D. Hill, who runs the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds, and Southern California's Sam Dickerson, a 9.7 sprinter.

North running backs include 1,000-yard gainers John Riggins of Kansas, a third team All-American, and Fred Willis of Boston College.

A trio of Big Eight Conference stars give the North a group of top offensive linemen, but one, all-American tackle Bob Newton of Nebraska, may have been lost Thursday when he apparently pulled a muscle in his back. Bob Bridges of Oklahoma State was added to the roster because of the Newton injury.

Other Big Eight linemen are Dennis Having of Colorado and Larron Jackson, a second unit All-American from Missouri.

Webb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Lou Saban of the Denver Broncos will handle the North.

Players on the two squads turn professional in this game, with members of the winning team receiving $1,500 each and the losers $1,250. In the case of a tie each player would receive $1,375.

The South leads in the series 12-7-2.

OSU Faces Iowa In Loop Debut

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Taylor realizes his young Ohio State basketball team must come up with consistency and better board work to challenge for the Big Ten conference title.

"We're short on consistency and we're not really going to work on the boards," Taylor said before taking the Buckeyes to Iowa for a Saturday night league opener.

"As big as we are, we should be better rebounders. We are taking better shots," he said. Ohio State is 5-4 in non-conference action, same as Iowa's defending champions.

Meanwhile, in Ohio, a heavy card spiced with two Mid-American Conference six Ohio Conference and three Mid-Ohio Conference games is in the works Saturday.

Sophomore Allan Hornyak leads Ohio State pointmakers with a 21.2 average. Jim Clemons is at 20.9 and 7-foot sophomore center Luke Witte at 18.9 for the Buckeyes, one of five teams considered a title threat.

Iowa, with only one returning regular, Fred Brown, is not rated a serious shot at keeping its Big Ten crown.

Ohio University, picked to keep the Mid-American title, plunges into league play at home in a matinee game against Bowling Green. The Bobcats have won 22 straight at home.

Miami can retain the Mid-American lead with a second straight triumph. The Redskins await Toledo.

Capital, 4-0, and Marietta, 3-0, should stay atop the Ohio Conference. The Crusaders visit Oberlin, 0-1. Marietta entertains Hiram, 0-3.

In other Ohio Conference contests, Baldwin-Wallace (1-1) is at Wittenberg (1-0), Wooster (2-0) at Ohio Wesleyan (0-0), Muskingum (1-2) at Heidelberg (1-2) and Denison (0-2) at Mount Union (1-1).

Friday, the last of Ohio's unbeaten with a 10-0 mark, faces visiting Wilmington in the Mid-Ohio Conference. The Oilers are 1-0, Wilmington, 2-1 in the league.

Bluffton (1-0) visits Malone (1-2) and Defiance (0-3) goes to Cedarville (1-0) in the other Mid-Ohio games.

Xavier travels to third-ranked Marquette and Kent State journeys to No. 10 St. Bonaventure. Cincinnati plays at St. Louis tonight and at home against Northern Illinois Saturday night. New Orleans Loyola is Dayton's visitor.

Elsewhere, Kenyon is at Washington and Jefferson, Westminster at Akron, San Diego at Youngstown, Central Michigan at Central State, Western Reserve at Pitt-Johnstown, Allegheny at Case Tech, Urbana at Indiana Northern, Steubenville at Bellarmine, Rio Grande at Berea, Ky. and Oakland Mich., at Ashland.

In games Thursday night, Western Reserve trimmed Oberlin 76-72 in overtime and Steubenville nudged Indiana State, Pa., 76-68.

McCafferty Says Colts Are Ready

MIAMI (AP) — Except for his 6-foot-4 inches, Don McCafferty was inconspicuous as usual in the crowd of Baltimore Colts filling from an Eastern DCS jet at Miami International airport Thursday night.

"Mainly, I'm happy to be here," said the 49-year-old Ohio native who guided the Colts to a Super Bowl date in his first season as head coach. "I thought we had a pretty good ball club, but I never thought we'd be here."

McCafferty's style was as conservatively decorous as the green sport jacket hanging neatly from shoulders which once functioned in Ohio State's offensive line under Paul Brown.

"I hope so," McCafferty deadpanned when somebody asked if the Colts were in good shape to combat the Dallas Cowboys Jan. 17 in the Orange Bowl.

"Seriously, we had our troubles early including a lot of injuries that brought about switches in personnel. Many people came through for us and are responsible for our being here."

One of them came down the stairwell a few minutes after McCafferty. Tom Goode, who toiled four years for the Miami Dolphins, was claimed last month by the Colts and activated for the stretch drive when injuries hobbled center Dan Curry. Injured in training camp, Goode had been reserved and then placed on waivers by the Dolphins in the hope of reactivating him himself.

Nick Skorich Named Head Cleveland Browns Coach

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
A good man is hard to find—but it's sometimes harder finding a good coach in the National Football League.

The Cleveland Browns found what they were looking for, the Philadelphia Eagles decided to hold onto what they had and the Green Bay Packers continued to search high and low.

Eagles' owner Leonard Tose said he was letting Williams fulfill the third year of his three-year contract because of the team spirit and public feeling.

"I took into consideration the fact that the morale of the team was good when we were losing and that the sentiment of the fans, as evidenced from letters, were almost better than 90 per cent for Jerry fulfilling his contract," said Tose.

Green Bay, meanwhile, was eyeing Arizona State Coach Frank Kush, among others.

"I have been asked to talk to them . . . but I don't know much more than that," said Kush. "There's nothing like a definite offer."

The latest developments were a sign of the season in the NFL—the lull until the Super Bowl Jan. 17 when teams reevaluate themselves. That means coaching changes.

George Allen, who recently departed the Los Angeles Rams, hooked on with the Washington Redskins to replace Bill Austin and the St. Louis Cardinals cut Charley Winner in Wednesday's activity.

Skorich inked a three-year pact of undisclosed amount, but insisted he'd be in town later.

"I intend to be here about 10 years," said the 49-year-old Skorich, apparently referring to his retirement age.

He replaces Blanton Collier, who retired after the Browns suffered through one of their worst records ever.

Tose looks forward to better times in 1971 with the Eagles.

"I'm hopeful of winning this season and the judgment of Williams will be made after 1971," said the owner.

Kush led his sixth-ranked Sun Devils to an 11-0 season, including a victory over North Carolina in the Peach Bowl. Green Bay is looking for someone to replace Phil Bengtson, who resigned after an unsuccessful 1970 season.

Casper, Shaw, Smith Tied In LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy Casper had a share of the lead, Arnold Palmer had a mental lapse and three players had yet to finish in the first round of the $110,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Casper, battling a heavy cold and hand-numbing chill, fired a five-under-par 66 Thursday and tied a pair of 28-year-old blonds — Tom Shaw and Bob Smith — for the top spot in the opening round of the first tournament on the 63-stop pro tour this year.

The start of play was delayed for about 30 minutes to allow frozen greens to thaw and early darkness caught Bill Brask, Bobby Greenwood, and Jack Montgomery still out on the Rancho Park Golf Club course.

George Allen, who recently departed the Los Angeles Rams, hooked on with the Washington Redskins to replace Bill Austin and the St. Louis Cardinals cut Charley Winner in Wednesday's activity.

Skorich inked a three-year pact of undisclosed amount, but insisted he'd be in town later.

"I intend to be here about 10 years," said the 49-year-old Skorich, apparently referring to his retirement age.

He replaces Blanton Collier, who retired after the Browns suffered through one of their worst records ever.

Tose looks forward to better times in 1971 with the Eagles.

"I'm hopeful of winning this season and the judgment of Williams will be made after 1971," said the owner.

Kush led his sixth-ranked Sun Devils to an 11-0 season, including a victory over North Carolina in the Peach Bowl. Green Bay is looking for someone to replace Phil Bengtson, who resigned after an unsuccessful 1970 season.

New Ohio Congressman Eyes Judiciary, Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Freshman Congressman William J. Keating is interested in legislation on modernizing the courts and penal codes, revenue sharing and anti-pollution.

And he hopes, with possible seniority changes, he will be able to play a part in shaping some of the measures.

"I don't want to sit back and watch the world go by as a freshman," the soft-spoken Ohio Republican said in an interview.

"I realize there are obstacles for freshmen members, but they are not insurmountable," he said.

Keating, a former Cincinnati judge, would like to be picked for membership on the House Judiciary Committee.

And as a former chairman of finance for the city of Cincinnati, he also is interested in legislation on revenue sharing.

"Revenue sharing is one means that elected officials can respond to the needs of the people," he said.

Keating also hopes to get involved in national anti-pollution legislation which he feels is important to Ohio because of industrial complexes in his own state, as well as surrounding states.

He said he favors funding the supersonic transport (SST) because of the jobs it would provide in construction. "We don't know what the full impact of the SST will be on the environment," he said. "There's a lot we don't know about it—pollution may never happen."

Keating, the father of seven children, was elected to the 1st District seat Robert Taft Jr. gave up to run successfully for the Senate.

He said he will spend the weeks before Congress reconvenes Jan. 21 studying legislation left over from the 91st Congress, such as family assistance and social security.

UAW, Chrysler Bargain On Wage Issue

DETROIT (AP) — Bargainers for the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. meet today for their first serious main-table talks in three weeks following rejection by the union of the company's long-awaited new wage proposal.

The proposal for the most part closely followed the pattern set in new contracts between the UAW and General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co.

But UAW President Leonard Woodcock said it had "deficiencies" in sections dealing with retroactivity of the first year wage increase for workers paid by the hour and with pay hikes for salaried employees.

Chrysler Vice President William M. O'Brien said the company was prepared to negotiate on both items.

The UAW leadership is to meet Monday to make a decision "as to its course of action, leaving open the days between now and Monday in the hope that the Chrysler Corp. management will see the wisdom of avoiding the regrettable necessity of a strike deadline," Woodcock said.

The Chrysler wage offer, which O'Brien estimated would cost the firm $700 million over three years, would raise first year wages by from 40 to 57 cents an hour with the average raise to be 51 cents.

The offer, however, made no mention of retroactivity of the 25 cents of "new money" in the first-year wage boost which would cost the company about $10.7 million.

Both Woodcock and the UAW Chrysler department head, Doug Fraser, have said repeatedly they would not accept anything less.

Woodcock said the union would be willing to strike over retroactivity.

The salaried employee problem is unique to Chrysler, since it alone has a substantial number of UAW-represented salaried employees. The union represents 110,000 production workers and 10,000 salaried workers at Chrysler.

Also included in the offer were unlimited cost-of-living wage scale raises and retirement at a $500 monthly pension after 30 years service at age 58.

Public Response Said Heavy For Inaugural Ceremonies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public response to planned inauguration activities Monday has been so great that Gov.-elect John J. Gilligan said "with tongue in cheek—he had to stand in line to get tickets."

That's just a slight exaggeration, according to Inaugural Committee Chairman Nelson Lancione, who said Thursday the response has been "fantastic and beyond our wildest dreams."

The rush for tickets caused the committee to change the site of the Monday night inaugural dinner for a second time. It was planned at the Neil House Hotel, later was moved to the Lausche Building on the state fairgrounds and now will be held on the larger multi-purpose building there.

Lancione said 1,200 people are expected for the $100-a-plate dinner, but the number might go as high as 2,500. As many as 5,000 persons, Lancione said, are expected to attend the $100-a-couple inaugural ball at the Lausche Building.

He predicted that with good weather as many as 50,000 people will be at the statehouse Monday noon to see Gilligan sworn in by Ohio Supreme Court Chief Justice C. William O'Neill.

"The inauguration is just like the campaign," Lancione said. "as it nears, the tempo and interest are building."

The committee has mailed about 35,000 invitations for the inauguration which is free and open to the public.

Lancione's staff of seven paid workers and nearly $50 volunteers has been working with a budget of $65,000 from the state Democratic Party. No public funds are being used.

Committee On Tax Reform Resumes Hearings Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Citizens Task Force on Tax Reform, a post-election creation of Gov.-elect John J. Gilligan, resumes hearings at the Statehouse today.

Testimony is scheduled from Dr. Donald J. Curran, associate professor of economics at Cleveland State University.

At the first day of hearings Thursday, economists Fred Stocker of Ohio State University and George Thatcher of Miami University told the 33-member panel the state's tax system is "a relic left over from the depression years of the 1930s."

Stocker said the tax structure, with its heavy reliance on property taxes, is not capable of responding to an economy of growth and inflation.

Property taxes, constitutionally limited in Ohio to a ceiling of 10 mills valuation, are lower by comparison than anywhere else in the nation, Stocker said.

The revenues from property taxes are a principal source of money for education in the state.

In addition to not providing enough money to support education, Stocker said, property tax also tends to hit hardest those least able to pay.

What is required, both Thatcher and Stocker agreed, is a systematic program of education of both the public and legislators to the need for more tax revenues.

Until the public is educated and the tax system is modified, Stocker said, the quality of

Death Penalty

Staff director Louis B. Schwartz, a law professor, said this proposed change was "a response to street violence by youths."

The commission asked Congress to prohibit private armies and such paramilitary organizations as the right-wing Minutemen. Brown declined to say whether the recommendation was aimed at the Black Panthers.

The commission recommended retention of antisecrecy laws, in contrast to a presidential commission which urged last year that all such laws pertaining to adults be abolished.
